Biography

Alexis Adams is an associate in the Memphis office of Hall Booth Smith, where she focuses her practice on aging services, general liability, and health care matters.

Prior to joining HBS as an Associate, Alexis served as a law clerk in the firm's Memphis office, where she assisted attorneys with case strategy, discovery, and preparation for hearings, depositions, and trials. She also gained valuable legal experience as a law clerk at other Memphis-based law firms, conducting legal research, drafting memoranda, preparing court documents, and assisting with various stages of litigation.

In addition to her legal experience, Alexis previously completed a co-op with Janssen Pharmaceuticals, where she supported initiatives within the company's oncology division and collaborated with team leaders on organizational projects.

Alexis earned her Juris Doctor from the University of Memphis Cecil C. Humphreys School of Law, where she earned a Health Law Certificate. During law school, she served as President of the Black Law Students Association, Notes Editor of the Memphis Law Review, a member of the Moot Court Board, and Bar Governor of
