Anthony Stewart is an attorney in the Atlanta office of Hall Booth Smith, and his practice focuses on data privacy and security, intellectual property and general liability.

Anthony is certified by the International Association of Privacy Professionals as a Certified Information Privacy Professional (CIPP/US) and Certified Information Privacy Manager (CIPM). He has also earned the designation of Fellow of Information Privacy from the International Association of Privacy Professionals. This designation is reserved for experts in the privacy industry and signifies that he has demonstrated a comprehensive knowledge of privacy law, privacy program management and essential data protection practices.

Anthony earned a Juris Doctorate degree from Emory University School of Law. During law school, he clerked for the Honorable Richard W. Story with the United States District Court for the Northern District of Georgia and for the Honorable Jason J. Deal with the Superior Court for the Northeastern Judicial Circuit.

He holds a Bachelor of Science from North Georgia College & State University, and was an emergency medical technician (EMT) earlier in his career with more than a decade of clinical experience working in healthcare.
