Biography

Anthony Guerreso is an associate in the Atlanta office, where he focuses his practice on medical malpractice defense. He represents physicians, healthcare professionals, hospitals, and healthcare facilities in medical negligence litigation, assisting clients through all phases of the litigation process.

Anthony brings a well-rounded litigation background to his medical malpractice practice. Prior to joining Hall Booth Smith, he spent several years at a boutique litigation firm where he represented institutional clients and business entities in a variety of complex civil disputes. His practice included business litigation, franchise and independent automobile dealer defense, and lienholder defense matters. In that role, Anthony managed cases from intake through resolution, conducted extensive discovery, drafted and argued numerous motions, and developed litigation strategies that resulted in favorable outcomes for his clients.

He received his J.D., with honors, from Emory University School of Law and his Bachelor of Business Administration in Finance from the University of Georgia.
