HALL BOOTH SMITH, P.C.

cmorris@hallboothsmith.com

Attorney at Law

678.539.1589

BIOGRAPHY | CREDENTIALS | MEMBERSHIPS | PUBLICATIONS | IN THE PRESS

Biography

An associate in the Atlanta office of Hall Booth Smith, Caleb Z. Morris focuses his practice in the areas of medical malpractice, general liability matters, business law, corporate law, entertainment law, and appellate matters.

Previously, both a summer associate and an operational analyst at Hall Booth Smith, he gained experience conducting legal research and drafting memoranda across various litigation groups while also producing detailed firm-wide analytical reports for HBS's Chief Strategy Officer.

More +

Caleb is also a legal and civic educator dedicated to reforming the justice system through strategic education and forward-thinking legal policy. He is the co-founder and strategic partner of ProCivica, where he leads the development of cognitive behavioral programs designed for first-time offenders, juveniles, and repeat offenders nationwide. By combining legal insight with evidence-based learning models, Caleb has positioned ProCivica at the forefront of educational innovation within judicial contexts.

Caleb earned both his J.D. and M.B.A. from the University of Services

Appellate

Entertainment

General Liability

Medical Malpractice

© 2023 Hall Booth Smith, P.C. | All Rights Reserved

Georgia, where he gained broad experience across legislative, judicial, and litigation settings. His work included legal externships with the Speaker's Office of the Georgia House of Representatives, the Western Judicial Circuit, and the Fulton County District Attorney's Office. He also contributed to appellate litigation through UGA Law's Appellate Litigation Clinic, served as the Executive Managing Editor of the Georgia Journal of International and Comparative Law, was a Student Board Advisor to the Association of Commercial Space Professionals, and a Research Assistant to the Dean of the UGA School of Law. He also served as a teaching assistant for UGA Law courses on artificial intelligence and legal technology, mentoring students on the intersection of innovation and law.

A dedicated leader in the national legal community, Caleb not only served as the president of UGA Law's chapter of the Federal Bar Association but also continues to serve as past-law student chair of the Federal Bar Association's National Law Student Division, where he advances professional development, mentorship, and public service opportunities for law students nationwide. His leadership supports the FBA's mission to strengthen the federal legal system and promote the sound administration of justice. He currently sits on the FBA's national Young Lawyer's Division along with being an active member of the Atlanta FBA chapter.

Caleb also holds an A.B. in International Affairs, summa cum laude, with honors, from the University of Georgia.

During his undergraduate studies, Caleb Morris gained experience across government, legal, and political institutions, developing a foundation in communications, policy, and international engagement. At the Carl Vinson Institute of Government, he served as an administrative assistant with the International Center, where he acted as a student diplomat for international delegations and supported high-level meetings through research, event coordination, and project management. In Washington, D.C., Caleb worked as a legal & public policy intern at Dentons, where he contributed to legal research, drafted memoranda and policy materials, and prepared background documents for firm partners. He also assisted in developing legislative resources related to U.S. congressional committees.

Caleb further expanded his communications experience as a communications specialist for Brian Kemp for Governor in Atlanta. In this role, he supported statewide media strategy, drafted campaign messaging and press materials, and helped coordinate press conferences and fundraising events. Additionally, he served as a public leadership intern in the Office of Communications and Press at the White House, where he analyzed media coverage, assisted in the execution of official press events, and coordinated with congressional communications offices.

© 2023 Hall Booth Smith, P.C. | All Rights Reserved

Credentials

Admitted

State Courts:

- Georgia

Education

- J.D., University of Georgia
- M.B.A., University of Georgia
- A.B., summa cum laude, with honors, International Affairs, University of Georgia

Memberships

- Federal Bar Association
- Georgia Bar Association

Publications

- Laws of Attraction: The Gravitational Pull of a U.S. Space
  Georgia Journal of International and Comparative Law

© 2023 Hall Booth Smith, P.C. | All Rights Reserved

- Jurisdictional Fiction: Is International Shoe Due for a Pennoyer Moment? Part I
  Missouri Law Review

In the Press

Hall Booth Smith, P.C. has Added Associates Caleb Z. Morris, James S. Holmes, and Annika “Gracie” Livingston to its Atlanta office

May 18, 2026

Hall Booth Smith has added associates Caleb Z. Morris, James S. Holmes, and Annika “Gracie” Livingston to its Atlanta office.

Read Full Article
Load More Posts

© 2023 Hall Booth Smith, P.C. | All Rights Reserved