Cameron A. Mobley is an Associate in our Atlanta office, and he focuses his practice on a wide range of medical malpractice and premises liability matters.

Cameron has defended large hospital systems and individuals in medical malpractice claims. He has also represented plaintiffs through verdict, and uses those insights and experiences to better inform his strategy in defending HBS clients in a variety of claims.

He has defended large concert and event venues in premises liability matters, and he has litigated commercial auto, trucking, healthcare and hospital regulatory compliance and other business matters.

Cameron earned a Juris Doctorate from Georgia State University College of Law, where he was President of the Student

Trial Lawyers Association and led the team in winning two national competitions and runner up in a third national competition. He was named outstanding advocate at one of the national competitions.

Cameron also was a member of the Moot Court team, was selected join the Order of the Barristers and was appointed Honor Court Prosecutor during his third year. He completed a Bachelor's in Business Administration from The Citadel, where he was a four-year varsity letter recipient in football and graduated a semester early.
