Elizabeth F. Morrison is an Associate in our Charleston office, with a practice focused on general liability, transportation, insurance coverage, professional negligence and medical malpractice. She also provides general representation and counseling to local businesses including contractors, property managers and those in the food and beverage industry.

Earlier in her career, she was an associate attorney at a boutique law firm in Charleston. While in law school, she served the Charleston City Council as a legislative intern. Mrs. Morrison was selected as one of thirteen inaugural ambassadors to the South Carolina Bar Foundation and was elected to the board in 2019. She has served on the Lawyers' Fund for Client Protection since 2016 and has represented the Ninth Judicial Circuit in the South Carolina House of Delegates since 2018. In 2017, she was listed as a Legal Elite of the Lowcountry for insurance law by Charleston Business Magazine. In her spare time, she serves as an advisory board member to Lowcountry Street Grocery and volunteers as a tour guide during Historic Charleston Foundation's annual Festival of Houses and Gardens.

Ms. Morrison holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in communication from East Carolina University, where she graduated magna cum laude. She received her Juris Doctorate from the Charleston School of Law, graduating cum laude in 2012. While there, she served as treasurer and president of the Student Bar Association, was a member of the Pinckney Inn of Court and served as a hearing officer for the Housing Authority of the City of Charleston.

Ms. Morrison lives in James Island with her husband and their dachshund, Neville Longbottom. In her spare time, she enjoys spending time on the water.
