Biography

Elizabeth Pharr McCullough is a partner in our Raleigh office, where she advises and defends health care providers in matters involving patient care issues and risk management issues. She has successfully handled numerous medical malpractice cases and has taken many of them to trial. She has obtained numerous defense verdicts in cases of alleged medical malpractice, many of which involved catastrophic injury or death.

Elizabeth also represents clients before the North Carolina Medical Board, the North Carolina Board of Nursing, the North Carolina Board of Pharmacy, the North Carolina Board of Physical Therapy, and the North Carolina Board of Social Work Certification and Licensure. As the daughter of a retired ENT physician, she knows first-hand that it is never “just a case."

with the North Carolina Attorney General's office in the defense of those claims. She has successfully handled appeals in the North Carolina Court of Appeals, North Carolina Supreme Court, Virginia Supreme Court, United States Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit, and the United States Supreme Court.

In addition to representing clients involved in adversarial proceedings, Elizabeth educates clients and advises them in matters pertaining to HIPAA, HITECH, and other security issues. She represents providers in medical billing audits and recoupment procedures and pathology laboratories with waste management claims.

Before joining HBS, Elizabeth was the first female equity partner for a dual-state trial litigation firm in its Raleigh office. Before joining that firm, she practiced for 16 years as a shareholder and served as the first female member of the practice management committee for a Raleigh-based litigation defense firm. She started her practice in Richmond, Virginia, defending medical malpractice / tort defense matters before moving to North Carolina in 2004.

Elizabeth earned her Juris Doctor from Wake Forest University and her Bachelor of Arts from Davidson College.
