Biography

Hayden Garvin is an associate attorney in the Brunswick office of Hall Booth Smith, where he focuses his practice on business litigation, governmental liability, and medical malpractice.

Prior to joining HBS, Hayden gained experience in business litigation, real estate transactions, planning and zoning matters, and local government representation while working with a law office in Forsyth, Georgia. In this role, he assisted with drafting complaints, answers, discovery requests, motions for summary judgment, business transactional documents, correspondence, and memoranda for local government clients.

During law school, Hayden also interned with the Honorable Pandora Palmer of the Henry County Superior Court. He observed both civil and criminal proceedings and assisted with drafting court orders, providing him with insight into the judicial process and the handling of matters before the court.

Before attending law school, Hayden worked in the insurance industry, where he assisted with account renewals and new business placement for clients across a range of industries, including professional services, hospitality, construction, utilities,
