Biography

Jenny Swajkoski is an Associate in our Missoula, Montana, office where she focuses her practice on medical malpractice, health care, professional malpractice and ethics, labor and employment, and general liability matters. She represents clients in many different arenas, from civil trials to appearances and investigations before state licensing boards and administrative agencies.

Some of Jenny's greatest strengths as a lawyer include her abilities to collaborate with others, develop thorough tactical strategies, and carefully curate persuasive narratives, which help provide opportunities for her clients to obtain favorable outcomes during all stages of litigation.

She has served as second chair in three civil trials and supporting counsel in two others. In addition, she has served as lead counsel in over 50 mediations and small lawsuit resolution hearings and has both prepared and argued over a dozen dispositive motions and dozens of non-dispositive motions.
