Biography

Sammy “G” Gulizia is the Director of Client Relations at Hall Booth Smith and is an extension of our client business team. He works to build strong rapport with clients including managing relationships, contract adherence, expectation setting, and status communications. He also oversees the management of Hall Booth Smith’s office in West Palm Beach, Florida.

He has over 25 years of medical malpractice experience managing claims and litigation for hospitals, nursing homes, assisted living centers, and individual practitioners on a national basis. Prior to joining Hall Booth Smith, Sammy was the Managing Director of the law firm Romaguera Dawson & Humphrey, P.A.

Sammy was one of the original High Profile Claims Directors with AIG Company. While there, he was responsible for and oversaw the successful resolution of over 5,000 claims and more than 125 trials, developing national expertise in handling catastrophic losses. He worked closely with the executive leadership of other divisions of AIG including underwriting and risk management. Sammy is a registered Paralegal in the state of Florida and a member of the Association of Legal Administrators (ALA). He grew up in New York City and has lived in Florida for over 13 years.
