Data Privacy & Cybersecurity

It is more important than ever that businesses assess how they manage and control their data. Our attorneys can provide you with proactive strategies to reduce the likelihood of a security breach along with remedies to reduce your loss exposure should your data be compromised. We have a team of data privacy and cybersecurity attorneys throughout our offices to work with clients throughout the country.

National Trial Counsel

Companies face more risk of multi-million-dollar lawsuits than ever before. To help clients mount the most effective defense in these dangerous high exposure cases, Hall Booth Smith created a National Trial Counsel practice of highly experienced attorneys who work together as a team to achieve the best possible outcomes.
